

Coaching Coaches

Friday, 10 February 2006

Coaching the Coaches is a one on one online mentoring program for coaches who are seeking advice and help with their teams. Here the client is able to request advice from World of Soccer's Technical Director, Tony Waiters who is able to rely on his vast coaching experience at almost every level of the soccer.

This is how the program will work.

- Time slots of one-hour sessions will be bookable through the World of Soccer site.
- World of Soccer at its expense will telephone the coach at the prescribed hour.
- A coach may wish to have other people join him/her in the session. Conference calls are possible but in those cases the additional expenses will be the responsibility of the client(s).
- World of Soccer has an online Whiteboard program that will enable the diagramming of practices and situations that will occur as a result of the discussion.
- Coaches will be encouraged to Email Tony Waiters the areas for discussion and questions prior to the session so that he can prepare accordingly.
